

Space Heater Safety

Gas space heaters are a safe and reliable way to heat when used correctly, installed by a qualified professional, and maintained properly. The following are valuable safety tips regarding gas space heaters.

Have your gas heater and venting system installed by a professional and inspected in accordance with local codes.

Do not re-install a used space heater.

Keep flammable liquids and other combustible materials (boxes, newspapers, etc.) away from space heaters as well as other gas appliances.

